

Media Diversity

We are writing regarding Docket No. 02-277, The Biennial Review of the FCC's broadcast media ownership rules. We are certain that the public interest is best served by retaining all of the current media ownership rules. The last thing we need is more media power in the hands of huge broadcast companies. Already, the scope of media views has become severely limited.

Also, since the airwaves belong to the public, the public has a right to debate these issues before they are decided on. It is urgent that the FCC hold hearings around the country, so that those who will be affected can participate in the discussion.

To us, and many people we know, this is one of the most important issues facing us today. We are outraged at the thought that these rules may be changed to benefit huge companies, to the decided detriment of our democracy.

Thank you very much,
